

AN INFLUX OF VISITORS is again expected at the sealed mine shaft in Calumet which became the final resting place of seven-year-old Ruth Ann Miller. The youngster crawled into a cave-in near its capped opening in July of 1966. A three-day search for the body ended several hundred feet below the surface when lives of nine rescue workers were endangered by conditions in the abandoned shaft. The grave site was uncovered from its blanket of snow this Spring to reveal the simple marker placed upon it late last fall. (AP Wirephoto)

Income Surtax Is Likelier But Not By July 1 Deadline

Education Facing Aid Slash

LANSING (AP)—Department heads agreed Friday they would rather than just generally clear—just what kinds of cutbacks would have to be made without new taxes.

"I don't think this is a threat," he said. "It's a serious legislative alternative to our failure to act on taxes."

"It would hit us pretty hard, there's no question about that," said Robert Furlong, executive assistant to State Conservation Director Ralph MacMullan.

"But I assume if that's it we would live with it," he added. "We would really have to study the entire situation and come up with the best plan possible to carry on with our work."

"A scare tactic being used to jam through his Republican tax program," said Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit.

Romney's proposed alternative $968 million budget, for submission to the Legislature if lawmakers fail to adopt a tax reform program for fiscal 1967-68, would trim $185 million or 16 per cent from his original $1,115 billion budget recommendation.

Biggest cuts would be in money appropriated for education, mental health, state employment and in the building program for colleges and universities.

Denies Threat In announcing his proposed new figures, Romney emphasized that they show that "we must live within our means." He denied he was trying to threaten the Legislature, where his fiscal reform package is under consideration.

"It's just another example of brinkmanship and holding a gun to the head of the Legislature," said Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, a member of the Senate Taxation Committee which is studying Romney's income tax plan following its earlier Senate defeat.

"This might work at American Motors," Young said. "He might be able to fire the board of directors, but he can't fire us, we're elected too. And he can't lay off 15 per cent of the school kids."

Sure Of Tax Reform Romney, a former American Motors Corp. president, expressed confidence that the Legislature would approve a tax reform program by July 1.

A fellow Republican, House Speaker Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, said Romney's alternative budget was put out to make "specifically clear" rather than just generally clear—just what kinds of cutbacks would have to be made without new taxes.

Economy Will Perk In Late '67, Signs Hint

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects for congressional approval of President Johnson's proposed income tax surcharge are on the upswing, although it is almost certain the original July 1 target date won't be met.

A sampling of sources both in Congress and the executive branch turned up considerable agreement today that signposts finally are beginning to point toward the late-1967 economic pickup the administration predicted.

These sources listed such factors as increased industrial production, reduced inventories and rising consumer demands as signs the economy — sluggish earlier in the year — now has started to surge.

Nearly certain congressional approval of boosts in Social Security benefits and pay hikes for federal employees — plus the release of more than $3 billion in previously impounded federal funds — also are seen as adding to the tax hike's prospects.

Inflation Threat "By fall," said one source, "I think we'll be right back where we were last year — trying to slow down a real threat of inflation."

That's what Johnson had in mind in proposing a 6 per cent across-the-board surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes beginning July 1.

But he still hasn't sent the legislation to Congress, where there has been considerable reluctance to vote a tax increase — a hesitancy fortified by the economy's torpid pace.

One legislative strategist said it probably would be impractical to seek action on a tax hike until the economic pickup has continued long enough to end any doubts about its true nature.

October Or November? He suggested this would mean a delay in final action until October or November.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Friday that industrial output increased slightly in March following the largest two-month drop in six years.

The index rose from 156.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average in February to 156.4 per cent in March. After hitting a record 159 points on the index last December, the Reserve Board's measure of the output of mines, mills and factories plummeted 2.9 points in January and February.

Truce Is Arranged; Chicago Trucks Roll

CHICAGO (AP)—Trucks were rolling again today in the Chicago area after operators and drivers agreed to a truce in the five-day-old trucking work stoppage.

The agreement — which became effective at 12:01 a.m. — was requested Friday by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. Operators and union officials agreed to meet with Wirtz Tuesday in Washington in an attempt to iron out their differences.

Union spokesmen made it clear the truce does not rule out renewal of the strike at some later date.

"We haven't given up a thing by agreeing to go to Washington," said Lou Peick, chief negotiator for 10 Teamsters locals in Chicago. Edward Fennor, head of the independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union, said the unions will not compromise on their demands for higher wages, better vacation schedules or any other "bread-and-butter issues."

Felt In Washington The shutdown, which closed more than 90 per cent of Chicago's trucking firms, also was felt in Washington.

Teamsters officials there were reported reluctant to sign the tentative national agreement in fear the Chicago locals will receive a better contract.

Chicago locals have demanded a 90-cents-an-hour boost, believed to be more than 20 cents greater than the national pact, which affects some 450,000 truckers and warehousemen.

The conference in Washington Tuesday is aimed at reconciling the contracts.

Pact Not Ratified The national trucking pact has not yet been ratified by the over-the-road drivers, and its details have not been announced.

Spokesmen for employers in Chicago asserted before Friday's session that the only basis for a local settlement would be the national terms set forth earlier this week.

W. Eugene McCarron, chief negotiator for the operators, said, "We just don't have the funds to give the drivers their 90-cent package."

Howard Willett, spokesman for five trucking associations, said about 10 per cent of the industry's cargo would be operating today. Normal is 8 per cent of operations on a Saturday, a premium-pay day.

He said that by Monday the trucking industry would be back at a normal pace with some companies working overtime to catch up. Willett said the dispute had resulted in a "tremendous financial loss" for the industry.

The five-day stoppage affected 4,700 companies and 56,000 drivers, dock workers and warehousemen.

An estimated 50,000 production workers also were idled because parts moved by truck were unavailable.

Crime Is Threat To State: Kelley

LANSING (AP)—Organized crime threatens the sovereignty of the state, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said Friday.

"We have failed to develop a system to protect those who want to testify against organized crime," he told more than 100 radio and television broadcasters at the 20th annual awards banquet of the Michigan Associated Press Broadcasters Association.

Gov. George Romney presented the awards for outstanding programming in 20 categories. Kelley said when Michigan did away with capital punishment, the overlords of the crime world did not.

"Those people who fear the overlords have more respect for organized crime than for the State of Michigan," said Kelley. The attorney general said the duty of government—"the symbol of law and order in the community"—is to hold crime to a minimum.

But he said the tragedy is that we have failed.

Kelley pointed out that Michigan was one of 15 states listed by the President's special Crime Study Commission as having unusual amounts of crime.

"Too many people have done nothing about outstanding statistics into something constructive," the attorney general said. He charged that an emotional reaction to crime is not followed by concrete action.

"In times of war with another nation, we call in the commander-in-chief and tell them we want to have the best," he said.

America has successfully been defended, Kelley said, because the people have turned over the best available fighting tools to those in charge.

"We should have a war on crime," he said. "But there are too many places where the people do not say to their commanders in chief, 'do something about the crime problem.'"

"There's something wrong with a society that pays a common laborer more than a seasoned police officer," he said.

Adenauer Still Is Seriously Ill

RONN, Germany (AP)—Doctors announced today that ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer passed a quiet and painless night, but that there was still great concern for his life.

The 91-year-old statesman's condition had not changed, physicians said.

Scores of people, mostly newsmen, stood at the gates of his hillside residence through a cold and rainy night.

Prof. Adolph Heymer, head of the Bonn University Hospital, arrived just after 9 a.m. and said to reporters: "I can't tell you anything new."

Adenauer came down with a bad attack of flu, complicated by bronchitis, Wednesday. Doctors said later his whole organism had weakened, especially his heart and blood circulation.

Adenauer has been under an oxygen tent, and it was reported that the last rites of the Catholic Church had been given.

Auschwitz To Be Remembered

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Artists will unveil Sunday a giant monument — including the end of a railway line, ruins of gas chambers and symbolic tombstones — to honor four million Europeans slaughtered by the Nazis.

About 100,000 persons from all over the world were expected to attend the dedication at the Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camp.

One will be Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, whose arm bears the tattooed Auschwitz camp number 62933.

Poland decided in 1947, two years after Nazi Germany surrendered in World War II, to keep the camp intact. Birkenau's central field, where most of the mass murders occurred, still is strewn with ashes and broken bones.

One of the architects working on the $875,000 monument said: "We work for the living, but sometimes we must work for the dead, so that the living might live."

Polish and Italian artists designed the granite and rock monument, which has white blocks hewn into the shape of coffins spread over a quarter-acre to symbolize the millions killed in the camp.

In the center stands a structure of granite cubes, suggesting the crematorium chimney. Ruins of the crematorium are part of the monument.

An eternal flame will mark the end of the railway line which carried Nazi victims to the camp to die.

Contributions from all over the world helped build the memorial.

Griffin Asking Curb On Strikes

Current labor unrest in the United States serves to focus extra attention on a bill introduced by Senator Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.) to explore ways to better deal with nationwide strikes.

In a speech on the Senate floor, Griffin chided the Johnson Administration for failing, as it had promised, to recommend changes in existing labor laws.

"In this decade we have seen the awesome consequences of industrywide strikes evolve into a national economic nightmare," he said. "And we have waited in vain for the White House to act."

Griffin said it was time for Congress to take the initiative. "We should establish a joint bipartisan Congressional Committee with a specific mandate to review and recommend revisions of the laws relating to industrywide collective bargaining, strikes and lockouts."

Griffin, co-author of the Landrum-Griffin Act, said 32 major collective bargaining agreements will be open for renegotiation this year.

He cited last year's airline strike as the type of "national paralysis" that can set in when a labor-management dispute involves not merely one employer but an entire industry.

Griffin's bill calls for the creation of a 16-member committee (eight senators and eight representatives) that will look at such specific areas as:

1. Methods to improve or revise collective bargaining so as to avoid or minimize strikes or lockouts affecting an entire industry or region.
2. Concentration of economic and other power under the control of business and labor organizations and its relationship to nationwide strikes.
3. Effectiveness of various forms of mediation and arbitration.
4. Possible revision of existing federal laws concerned with collective bargaining and strikes.

Sylvania Tract Taxes Sought

BESSEMER—Gogebic County has taken the first step in an effort to collect some $41,250 in 1963 taxes it claims are owed to the county for the Sylvania Tract.

Prosecutor Jerome C. Nadolney said a hearing on the matter is scheduled April 20 in Wayne County Probate Court.

The county claims the taxes Nadolney said that at the time by the L.F. Fisher estate and the Christiansen Brothers on the tract and the hearing in Wayne County is the first step in an attempt to collect them. Nadolney said the action was taken because of a prolonged refusal on the part of the Fisher estate and the Christiansen Brothers and the federal government to make good an earlier promise to the county that the taxes would be paid in full.

Nadolney said the bulk of the taxes are owed by the Fisher estate. He said if taxes are not paid, this could force the sale of the Sylvania tract as a tax sale when a delinquent sale is held several years from now, although a question of law is involved.

The petition for collection was filed on behalf of the county, the Watersmeet Township board and the Watersmeet school district.

Nadolney said the bulk of taxes are owed by the Fisher estate. He said if taxes are not paid, this could force the sale of the Sylvania tract as a tax sale when a delinquent sale is held several years from now, although a question of law is involved.

County Board Committees Can Close Sessions

MARQUETTE — A county board of supervisors may, in its discretion, close meetings of its committees to the public and press, Michigan Attorney Gen. Frank J. Kelley has ruled.

Kelley's opinion came after Marquette Prosecutor Edward A. Quinnell requested an opinion for the Marquette Mining Journal, which has sought to cover and publicize actions taken at sessions of the Marquette County Board's policy-making budget and executive sessions.

Recently, committee meetings on reapportionment were declared open to the public and press.

County Parks Prepared For Camping, Picnics

The Delta County Road Commission has started preparing Delta County's parks for the coming summer of picnic and camping and William Karas, road commission superintendent, is looking for another busy season.

"Of course," he quickly points out, "it all depends on the weather."

The county had a good summer last year and the parks, particularly Pioneer Trail on U.S. 2 and 41 between Escanaba and Gladstone, had a banner year.

Karas said a total of 2,767 camping units averaging nearly four persons per unit registered at Pioneer Trail Park last summer for overnight or longer stays.

"And from a picnic standpoint," he continued, "the usage had doubled in the past three or four years."

Pioneer Trail is the most popular of four county parks, although Fuller Park on M-35 south of Escanaba, Rapid River Falls Park and Sac Bay at the tip of the Garden Peninsula also are well used. Two other parks — at Brampton and Fish

Turkey Vulture Caught At Rock

Two unusual bird observation reports were made this week by members of the Marquette County Chapter of the Michigan Audubon Society.

Nicholas Illnicky, Marquette, reported that a turkey vulture was caught in a coyote trap set by Carl Wadden of Rock in Delta County on April 7.

The bird was shot by Wadden, who said its leg was broken by the jaws of the trap, and the carcass was turned over to Illnicky, who sent it to the University of Michigan Museum of Zoology.

The only other report of a turkey vulture specimen that he could find from the Upper Peninsula was one taken near Whitish Point in Chippewa County in 1922, Illnicky said. Several other sight reports of vultures have been submitted in the Upper Peninsula, however.

The other unusual sighting also took place on April 7 when a mockingbird was observed in the Marquette area.

Other first arrival dates reported by the Marquette County Chapter include: Fox sparrow, April 3; bluebird and phoebe, April 8; vesper sparrow and ruddy duck, April 9; golden-crowned kinglet, April 11, and flicker, April 12.

Help With Cancer

The Delta County Cancer Crusade is underway with a goal of $8,231 to be raised. It is the largest goal we've had here to combat this greatest of the killers: the need for help grows with the years and so do the efforts of the devoted people who run the Delta County Chapter, American Cancer Society.

The campaign for funds is by mail, house-to-house solicitation in the Mothers' March, by coin containers and a solicitation of business and industry. It got off to a good start with Escanaba Area and Holy Name students in dancing parties.

The money raised helps care for cancer victims here and part of it is sent to the American Cancer Society to help finance the research program which will eventually defeat the disease. More than $15 million was spent last year on cancer research, and the federal government spent many millions more.

Dr. Charles Heidelberger, the brilliant ACS cancer researcher (McArdle Laboratory, University of Wisconsin) who developed a powerful anti-cancer drug, says "Only a free voluntary group like the American Cancer Society has the flexibility to take risks and to finance 'long shots' in research. This flexibility, this willingness to support new approaches, new techniques, new scientists, has made the ACS an enormously creative force in cancer research."

Give generously to the Cancer Crusade to help conquer this great scourge.

Wrong Agency

A new Division of Recreation Services was established recently as part of the Michigan Department of Conservation. Appointment of a division chief has been announced, and division staff members are being recruited.

The department itself has said that "the new division will be primarily concerned with the municipal recreation field having to do with the advice, direction, programming, facility layout and coordination of this phase of recreation. Special direction will be given to the handicapped, mentally retarded and aged-recognizing that they have been long neglected in this important field."

These are worthy objectives, and the state does well to provide services for the handicapped, the retarded, the elderly.

The only question is this: Is the provision of these services the proper function of the Conservation Department? Hitherto, this department has been concerned with natural resources. Is it now to expand its operations to encompass human resources also? Psychosociological services should be provided by some other state agency that is better equipped to administer them than is the Conservation Department.

"The organizational structure of the new division will be very similar to that of other divisions in the department — a division chief and necessary section heads," the department has stated. "At the present time, three sections are being established: (1) Programming, (2) facility, layout and design and (3) coordination. In the near future, it is expected that we will have a section dealing primarily with the handicapped, mentally retarded and old age."

This reads like a blueprint for a unit of the State Department of Social Welfare. It does not sound like the sort of activity the Michigan Conservation Department has traditionally engaged in.

By accepting this new responsibility, the department is thrust into a field in which it has limited experience and less business. The department is already spread thin as a result of incorporation of other units within the department in the recent reorganization of state agencies. It should not now further dilute its operations. Instead of expanding its activities into the area of social welfare, the department should be concentrating more intently than ever on managing Michigan's natural resources — the job it was created to perform.

Peril In Space Pact

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There are hidden jokers in the space treaty which the United States has signed but which the Senate has not yet ratified.

The treaty bars putting missiles in orbit, on the moon or in outer space. But the pact provides for no inspections. It operates strictly on an honor system. The United States wanted inspections, the Russians didn't. The American negotiators gave in to get a treaty.

Yet it would be easy for the Russians to hide missiles on orbiting platforms. The blast-off putting these platforms in orbit would appear no different from normal scientific space operations. U. S. spy satellites would note no difference. Neither would other U. S.-operated sensors.

Once in orbit, the missiles then could be fired at any time, without notice, by a Russian on the ground in the Soviet Union.

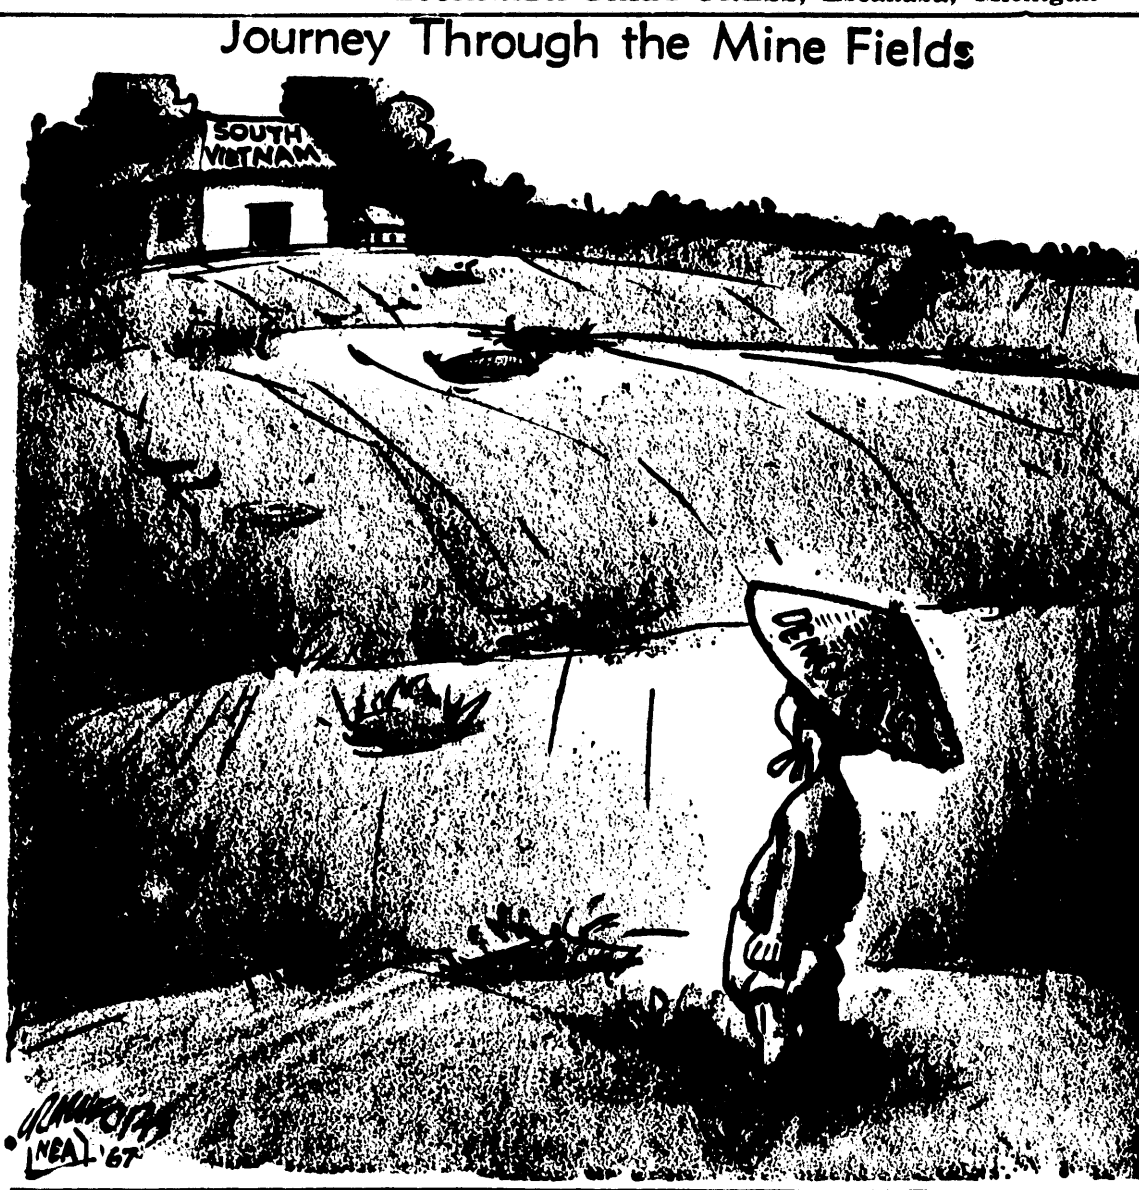

The precise orbits of the missile platforms could be calculated after a few turns in space. The space missiles thus would have much greater accuracy than today's intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Fired at the proper time, these missiles could reach U. S. targets within two to four minutes, faster than U. S. warning systems could operate.

By contrast, intercontinental ballistic missiles fired from Russia would take 25 to 30 minutes to arrive in the United States.

The Cuban missile crisis was a crisis because missiles fired from that island could arrive in the United States in a few minutes. Russian missiles in orbiting satellites would be just as much a crisis for this country.

Since the rise of Soviet domination, the United States has been in a constant state of alert. But the treaty does not define outer space. This lack of definition opens the door to serious arguments over how low foreign aircraft can fly over the United States without being under U. S. control and regulation.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

Henry Wylie, Escanaba high school agricultural instructor, received the largest number of votes in last week's municipal council election, and automatically became the new mayor of Escanaba. Wylie then resigned, and nominated Sam Wickman who was unanimously chosen to serve the office once again.

Basketball champions of the city were the "Cadets," a group of girls at St. Joseph's high school. The team was composed of Geraldine Waeghe, Virginia LaChance, Mary Helen Roberts, Rita Perron, Lorraine Shanahan, Eileen Lewis, Anne Mae VanLester, Betty Waeghe, Nona Sayen, Lois Aschinger, Helen LaChance, Eleanore Blanchette, Geraldine Bink, Jean Ryan and Catherine Beaudry.

50 Years Ago

Members of the new Escanaba council with Mayor T. J. Riley, president, held their first regular meeting. Mayor Riley delivered a short address to the council outlining his administrative plans for the year.

A movement was launched to organize a file and drum corps to become a feature of the drills and parades by the Home Guards, and for future patriotic meetings in the city.

Finding The Way

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

With ourselves or our neighbors or our lost friends—even our family! We make a statement and then refuse to move away from it. We remember one act of a person and in a delirious stamp him with it. We break a friendship and never have the initiative or the imagination to renew it.

These are the festering sores and dangerous situations in every community that are in need of forgiveness that breaks from dead goodness into forgiving love. Peter asked whether it was necessary to forgive seven times and Jesus broke from the frozen action of dead goodness into the exaggeration of 70 times seven. Something had to be dynamic, necessarily breaking loose from the prosaic business of counting the times of the action until love was lively.

I remember a piece of furniture which to me was worthless. Yet someone else could see beyond the burdening varnish and broken legs to the beauty of the original. So, despite my hesitation, the work was begun and ultimately an old table became a restored object of beauty, fulfilling the intent of the builder who had originally dreamed it and fashioned it into existence.

If we have lost the dream of what we can be and have deserted the ambition to renew, we won't even try to find any holiness in mankind.

There are some events that call us back to all the right dreams and that ought to be the purpose of our faith. We live in a time when the old idealism of this "youthful country" has tripped from us. Yet there is a faith which can help us to forsake "dead goodness" and become a part of the dynamic present. Dynamic forgiveness can involve us in some new and difficult situations but it won't be dead goodness. The dream of what we might be may deliver us into some controversial issues but no one can interpret it as "dead goodness."

Junior College State Aid Plan Still Uncertain

By JEAN WORTH

TRAVERSE CITY — The State Board for Community Colleges met with college administrators here Thursday in an all-day session that revealed the uncertainties surrounding immediate and long-range financing of the state's junior colleges.

To help resolve this basic problem in the state's program of higher education and technical training the State Board, which is an advisory group to the State Board of Education, is developing a position paper defining the role of the community college. The meeting here was one of several being held in the state to get the views of college administrators on the position paper.

Participating from the Upper Peninsula were James Lehman, president of Gogebic Community College, Ironwood; Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, Escanaba; and James Dotsch of Garden, a member of the board. Charles Boyer of Manistee presided.

College Problem

Boyer and others said that the legislative outlook in Lansing on state support for all schools is so murky, that it cannot now be known what state aids will be. Boyer thought that there would be two sessions of the Legislature this year. He is a former legislator.

The resulting uncertainties are troubles to colleges like Gogebic, which has a building program planned and wants to get out of the high school building in Ironwood, and Bay de Noc, which is busting the seams on its present housing and planning expansion.

Boyer said that the State Board for Community Colleges wanted to see the equivalent of a community college for everyone in a community college or a four year college or university and wanted to explore the feasibility of this concept in the Upper Peninsula.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden (president of Northern Michigan University) has leaned backward, said Boyer to do everything that a community college would do for the Upper Peninsula, and the consensus seemed to be that Northern Tech at Houghton and Lake Superior State College at Sault Ste. Marie would perform community college functions in their immediate service areas, with the community colleges serving such needs elsewhere.

Districting Proposed

Dotsch said that while the community colleges wouldn't infringe on the four year colleges, the latter might infringe on the community colleges.

This became a concern of the conference and it was suggested that an apportionment of roles of responsibility by the various levels of education might be made by districting, and by the assignment of certification authority, like the proposed restricting of the "associate degree" to community colleges.

"Any community college would like to be a four year college," said Dotsch, "and have all their costs paid by the state. But we feel that the community colleges will get a lot of state aid in the future and that there are enough empire builders among the community colleges heads so that they're going to destroy the community college program if we don't adopt this clause."

Two Year Limit

The clause cited in the position paper stated: "A community college cannot retain its unique multi-purpose service role if its efforts are directed toward becoming a four-year institution. Therefore, no community college should be expected to or be permitted to expand into a four year institution."

Les Biederman of Traverse City, on the Traverse Community College board described Michigan State University as the biggest "community college" in Michigan with 4,500 students enrolled from Ingham County, where it is located.

Boyer said he expected the appropriations for four year institutions to come to a "grinding halt" as the state finally reappraised its high education establishment.

Dotsch said that some community colleges in the richer parts of the state are opposed to equal opportunity for all Michigan people in the community college system. They oppose an equalizing factor in the state's community college support formula, so that poor areas get more state aid.

We like to bid whenever we get a good chance to do so. You do get set but if you never make a doubtful bid you never get anywhere.

In particular we open the bidding a trifle lighter than most other players and we overcall at the one level with any decent suit.

On the other hand we hesitate to compete with a minor suit after an opponent has bid a major. We find that such bids seldom do any good and frequently do lots of harm.

Here is a hand from a New York tournament that illustrates why we don't make minor suit overcalls.

South had passed to start. Not that this pass changed the spots on every card in his hand but it did mean that he could not hold much more than he had. He could not wait to stick in his two club overcall.

It is hard to say just how East and West would have bid if South had passed but they would probably have wound up a trifle too high in hearts or no-trump.

South's overcall solved all their problems.

West had a minimum opening bid and was delighted to pass and show this. East did not have any convenient bid. Two hearts would be inadequate. Two no-trump or three hearts were a trifle too much, but he did have a nice option. He doubled.

West was delighted to pass. His hand was a minimum but it did include three quick defensive tricks. He opened the king of diamonds. East signalled with the nine and the defense collected seven tricks right off the bat. This left South to take the last six tricks with his trump suit but the 500 penalty was more than East and West would have scored if they had been able to bid and make a game.

Ann Landers

Those Homely Guys Make Best Hubbies

Dear Ann Landers: When I started to date I wouldn't consider going with anyone who wasn't at least five feet ten, well-built and handsome. I made fun of the boys who were a little too fat or a little too slim. If a fellow's nose was too big or his teeth weren't straight, he was automatically off my list.

A boy's clothes were important, too. If he didn't look like a fashion model I wouldn't consider being seen with him. My mother warned me that I was making a big mistake, but I wouldn't listen. I made fun of her, too. Guess what happened? I married the best-looking, best-dressed fellow in town. All the girls were green with envy. Our wedding pictures were great.

We now have five children. My handsome, well-dressed husband never takes me anywhere, not even to church. I haven't eaten in a restaurant for three years. He prefers to go places alone.

I am disgusted and fed up, but I am determined to keep our marriage together. This rotten husband happens to be a good father.

Please warn the girls out there in Dateland not to pass up the short, homely fellows. I'm sorry I didn't have sense enough to grab one for myself.—SUSAN

Dear Susan: You're so right. Marrying for looks is a lot like buying wax fruit. You can starve to death looking at it.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is having a fifth birthday party in a few weeks. The problem is that the mothers all ways bring their children and sit around as if the party were for them.

I know from experience that young children behave much better when their mothers are not around. Our home is very small and it would be so much easier for me if the mothers did not stay.

If I come right out and tell them how I feel, will they be angry and perhaps retaliate by not allowing their children to come? What shall I do?—J. B. B.

Dear J. B. B.: Be frank. When you speak to a mother ask her to drop her child and leave him in your care. And you can sweeten the situation by arranging to take the children home when the party is over.

GM Officials Get Pay Cuts

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp. paid its officers and directors $15.6 million last year, 9 per cent less than in 1965, the firm's proxy statement shows.

The 61 executives and directors received the remuneration in salaries, fees, bonuses and contingent stock credits. The firm said it paid 63 officers and directors $17.2 million in 1965.

The decline in payments reflected reduced earnings by GM. The company's profits fell to $1.8 billion on sales of $20.2 billion last year from the 1965 profits of $2.1 billion on sales of $20.7 billion.

Frederic G. Donner, board chairman and chief executive officer, remained the nation's highest paid corporate executive. He received $790,000, comprised of $200,000 in salary and $590,000 in bonuses.

Donner, 64 and nearing retirement age, was paid $824,964 in 1965, but the decline largely reflected the GM policy against granting stock options to executives within 18 months of their automatic retirement dates. Donner will be 65 in October. Under usual policy he would step down Nov. 1.

The proxy statement also revealed that Gen. Lucius D. Clay and R. Samuel McLaughlin are stepping down as directors.

It said McLaughlin, a board member for almost 50 years, and Clay have decided not to stand for re-election. McLaughlin is 95 and Clay will be 70 this month.

Los Angeles Is Moving North At 2 Inches A Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For years people have been migrating to Los Angeles, and now a geologist reports Los Angeles is migrating too — and has been for 20 million years.

"Southern California is a giant geologic jigsaw puzzle," said Dr. John C. Crowell of the University of California at Los Angeles in an interview.

"This is part of the continental drift, in which the extreme western edge of North America is moving northwestward at a rate of about two inches a year. This is the reason, or one of the reasons," Crowell continued, "that we have earthquakes. Earthquakes are the periodic adjustments of this grand movement of the continental margin."

This, too, he said, is the reason for California's varied scenery.

"If it weren't for this movement, we'd be flat like Kansas."

When was the last time you thought enough of yourself to have a Pap test?

If you can find time for the beauty salon once a week, you can find time for the Pap test once a year. It's quick. It's painless. It's great to know you're free of uterine cancer. And if those reasons aren't reason enough, maybe this will be: Nearly 100% of all uterine cancers are curable when detected early.

The next time you call your beauty salon for an appointment, call your doctor for one, too. It makes sense to have a yearly Pap test. It makes sense to give to the American Cancer Society.

Litterbugs? Even On Ice?

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The wonder of Michigan's "Water Wonderland" is that its sky blue waters manage to stay that way despite the amount of crud dumped into lakes, streams and rivers every year.

That the water is reasonably clean and relatively free of junk is the result of a never-ceasing effort at law enforcement on many fronts: From the control of municipal and industrial wastes to policing the activities of the less thoughtful outdoor recreation seeker.

At about the same time the retreating snowbanks uncover the budding beer cans and bottles along the roadsides, the ice of Little Bay de Noc becomes unsafe for human traffic.

Before this, of course, the Department of Conservation has issued its annual warning to winter fishermen: Get those shanties off the ice before it's too late. Unfortunately, the warning isn't always heeded and the law must be invoked.

Unsanitary Messes "There are about 150 fishing shanties on Little Bay de Noc each winter and most of their owners are conscientious about obeying the law," said Conservation Officer James Walker.

"But about a dozen or so don't seem to care what kind of a mess they leave."

And what they leave out there on the ice to settle to the bottom of the bay or to go drifting around and mulling up the shoreline has a great deal of ugly variety: Bottles, old boxes, pieces of boards and roofing, tin cans large and small, ashes and debris from stoves, and quite a bit that is unmentionable.

"It is unlawful to leave anything on the ice that causes an unsightly appearance," Officer Walker commented. "When spring comes there's a great deal of rubbish that should be removed—as well as the shanties."

The aftermath of carelessness can be serious indeed. Children wading along the shore are cut by broken glass, swimmers step on rusty nails and other sharp metal, and water skiers face hazards of driftwood and debris in the water.

The fishermen themselves are likely to cuss when their trolling lines snag on sunken junk, or their motors conk out when the propellers hit debris on the bottom. And there's nothing quite so aggravating to cottage owners as the annual clean-up required when spring brings its flood of unsightly garbage along the shore.

One other factor is worth mention: The effect of bad outdoor "housekeeping" on the future activities of sportsmen themselves.

Owners of private shoreline property are becoming more and more concerned about the damage caused by careless fishermen and hunters—and more and more "no trespassing" signs are going up.

The public's best protection against littering—and the best guarantee for continued enjoyment of woods and waters—is support of the law and of the officers whose duty it is to police the out-of-doors.

Education Facing Aid Slash

President Edwin L. Novak of Flint. He said Romney's "so-called austerity budget recommendation... raises basic questions about the governor himself."

Novak said Romney's "original recommendations concerning state financing of education were unrealistically low—so low in fact as to promise that education in this state would be hampered for years to come."

"Not only was he willing to recommend such a harmful low level of support some weeks ago but now he provides us with an extensive description of austerity in many vital areas of government, austerity so severe in fact as undoubtedly to create a fairly high degree of havoc at the very time when rational consideration of the problem is absolutely necessary," Novak said.

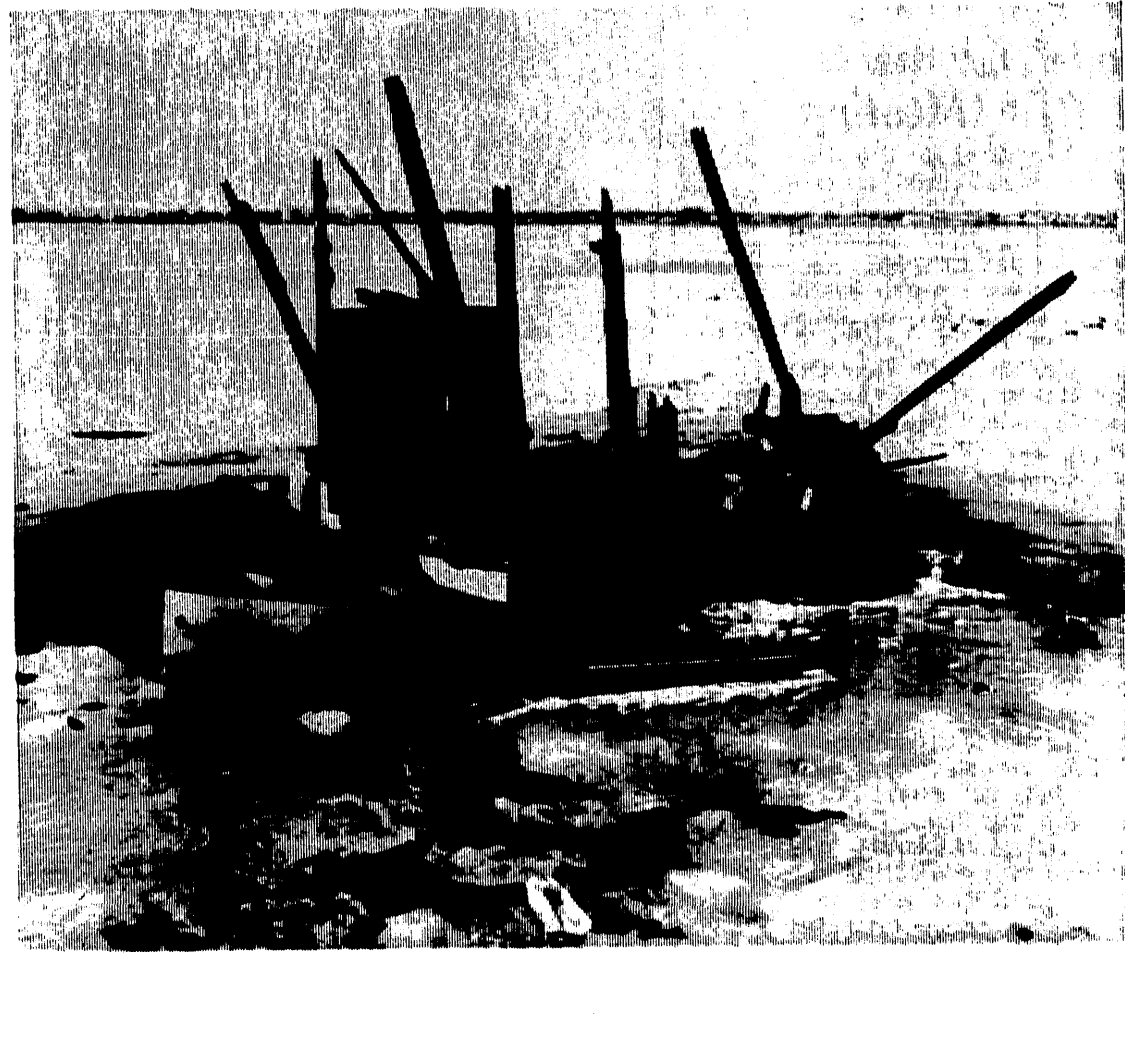

40% From Education Romney said approximately 47 per cent of the possible budget cut would be in the education field.

Some $86.75 million would be trimmed from proposed higher and lower education appropriations, including $54.95 million for operating purposes and $31.8 million for building projects.

Included would be a $5 per pupil reduction in the basic school aid grant.

School officials had criticized Romney's original budget for school spending, saying much more money was needed. Some accused him of threatening further cuts as a means of obtaining his fiscal reform program.

Another sore spot was Romney's announcement that state departments would be required to absorb the recent civil service pay increase, which he said could result in possible elimination of up to 2,500 state jobs.

NOT VERY PRETTY on the ice and more unsightly when it drifts ashore is this debris left by fishermen in two locations on Little Bay de Noc. One shanty was "removed" by partly burning it; and at another fishing site the abandoned junk made it look like the anglers were refugees from Dogpatch. (Department of Conservation Photos)

Military Revamp Passes In House

LANSING (AP)—The House passed bills Friday which would reorganize the State Military Department, raise the marriage license fee, require vision tests for preschool children and increase the income of justices of the peace.

The measures now go to the Senate.

Delayed until Monday was final action on a controversial measure involving implied consent to chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers.

The military reorganization bill, part of Gov. George Romney's legislative program, passed 102-0 without debate.

Its main feature defines the state adjutant general as chief administrative officer of the Michigan militia. Subordinate to him would be the military board, the chief of staff and the quartermaster, who now have independent administrative authority.

The bill would allow an enlisted man called to emergency duty $3 a day in addition to his regular military pay. The omnibus measure also changes military retirement provisions and codifies state laws dealing with the military establishment.

Another House-approved bill would raise the marriage license fee from $3 to $5, add $10 charge if both applicants were nonresidents of Michigan and permit probate judges to sanction marriages of first cousins.

Under the vision-test bill, schools would require children, before admittance, to submit statements signed by a physician, public health officer or optometrist indicating they had been tested.

Also sent to the Senate Friday was a House bill permitting county supervisors to replace a member of the county social services board if he misses three consecutive scheduled meetings after being notified they were to be held.

Another bill approved by the House would permit owners of 51 per cent of the front footage (instead of 60 per cent) to petition for sidewalk and street improvements.

Approved 80-18 was a bill to replace a 60-cent fee for justices of the peace which was abolished by the 1965 law and an attorney general's ruling.

The office of justice of the peace is abolished under the new State Constitution effective Jan. 1, 1969.

All nurses are expected to attend the meeting. A quorum of members will be necessary for the successful election of officers.

Hermansville

Sixty five members of the Menominee County Volunteer Fire Departments attended a meeting of all county units at Birch Creek Wednesday evening with the Menominee-Ingallston department acting as hosts.

A representative of the Michigan Department of Conservation of the Crystal Falls district talked on fire fighting and said classes on fighting fire is planned in Marquette. The date of the classes was set for Aug. 15, 16, 17.

Representing Hermansville at the session were John Adams, Jim Gribble, Pat Grenier, Charles Koehn and Harold Stecker.

A social hour followed the meeting.

Michigan Week Agricultural Spotlight Shifts

The contest to pick Michigan's Agricultural Development of the year will extend into the summer and the state award will be presented at the State Fair in Detroit, President Edgar L. Harden of Northern Michigan University, Marquette, general chairman of the 14th annual Michigan Week May 21-27, announced.

In past years the agriculture award program has been carried on side by side with the Product of the Year program, which is a contest for manufacturing companies from county and regional eliminations to the state finals and then presentation of awards during Michigan Week.

"From now on, the agriculture contest will have its own timetable and spotlight," Harden said. "We decided on this to give Michigan agriculture the recognition it deserves and to avoid any risk that at award time the agriculture winner will be found somewhere in the shadow of the product winner so far as public attention is concerned."

Richard Arnold, executive secretary of the Michigan Agricultural Conference and farm director of radio station WKAR at MSU, is the deputy chairman of the state Product and Agriculture Awards committee who will direct the agriculture contest.

Richard Marenger, 1411 9th Ave. S., is the Delta County chairman for Agriculture Awards.

Sugar is said to be the cheapest source of food energy.

State Demands Speck's Death

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A jury that has listened to nine days of testimony retires today to deliberate the fate of Richard Speck, charged with murdering eight nurses.

Both sides rested their cases Thursday after the defense called only 11 witnesses on behalf of the 25-year-old drifter-seaman who was arrested three days after the murders last July 14 in a town house on Chicago's South Side.

The state is demanding that the jury of seven men and five women return a verdict of guilty and sentence Speck to the electric chair. Illinois law provides that only a jury can impose the death penalty.

William Martin, 30, assistant state's attorney from Cook County (Chicago), is expected to reiterate in his closing arguments much of what he said in his opening statement — a chronology of Speck's movements before and after the murders, punctuated by the eyewitness identification by the girl who survived the massacre.

Martin called 42 witnesses. Several persons testified that on the two days prior to the slaying Speck was in the neighborhood where the nurses resided. A woman testified she saw him in a tavern at 10:15 p.m.

Corazon Amurao, 24, a nurse from the Philippines, testified that Speck knocked at her bedroom door at 11 p.m. July 13. She said Speck corralled the nine nurses in one bedroom, tied them, robbed them and led them out one by one to other rooms where their strangled and stabbed bodies were found.

MUNISING — "We certainly haven't abandoned" plans for a huge pulp and paper mill in the Munising area. The Marquette Mining Journal has been told by an official of the Oxford Paper Co. in New York City.

The company has still not made a final decision regarding the mill, Fred A. Clough Jr., New York, director of public relations for Oxford, said, but "studies relating to the mill are continuing to go forward." Among the studies in progress, he said, is one dealing with the availability of woods labor.

Asked if any single factor was delaying Oxford's decision, Clough replied that several factors were involved in the decision, including the money market.

"We're continuing to pursue a program that we hope ultimately will end in construction of a new mill in the Upper Peninsula," he said. "We hope to have a decision reasonably soon."

Oxford announced last June 23 that it was seriously studying the possibility of building a $100 million mill in Alger County that would utilize large quantities of wood from holdings of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.

Chrysler Recalls 19,000 '67 Cars

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. Friday recalled 19,332 of its 1967 model cars to correct possible defects involving disc brakes and auto-pilots, both optional special equipment.

A company spokesman said owners of the cars were being notified to bring them to their dealers for inspection and correction where necessary. The spokesman said the company discovered the optional equipment may not meet company specifications and notified the National Safety Agency.

"The defect may be in only a few of the cars," the spokesman said, "but we are recalling all of them to make sure."

The models involved include Plymouth Fury, Dodge Polara and Monaco and Chrysler passenger cars which are equipped with disc brakes and auto-pilots.

The auto-pilot is a device which may be preset to run a car at a specific speed for highway driving. The automatic speed device is disengaged when the driver touches either the accelerator or brake pedals.

The mill would operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week and would employ about 450 persons, in addition to woods workers. Initially it would produce 400 tons daily of hardwood and softwood, bleached kraft pulp, with paper-making facilities capable of producing Oxford's current grades.

Rumors persist here that a go-ahead decision has been reached on construction of the mill, but Clough denied that this is true.

Love And Fun Fail In Voting

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The love candidates placed second Friday in student elections at Portland State College.

A slate of candidates, headed by Larry Smith and Marion Bjerke of Portland, ran on a platform supporting love and fun. Campaign buttons said, "We Love You."

Tim Borosh, a business administration major from Tigard, Ore., and Don Suloff, an athlete from Ekron, Ore., won the top positions, getting twice as many votes as the love candidates.

Smith's reaction to finishing second in a field of six was, "It's better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

Mail Boat In 73rd Season

DETROIT (AP)—One of the holders of ZIP Code 48222 in Detroit will be making a few trips this year — about 15,000 — but isn't expected to have trouble getting its mail.

The holder is The J.W. Westcott II, a boat, which has started its annual task of carrying the mail to and from freights sailing the Detroit River.

This will be the 73rd straight season of ship-shore service for the vessel, which made 14,800 contacts with ships last year, including 2,332 with ocean-going vessels.

Seamen receive mail addressed to their ship's name and the ZIP Code number.

Postmaster Edward L. Baker said he expects the volume of mail handled by the J.W. Westcott II to top a million pieces this year, setting a record.

Lake Level Rise Predicted In May

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. Lake Survey reports Great Lakes water levels will rise two to 10 inches within a month.

Only Lake Superior showed an April decline from the same point in 1966, down an inch at 600 feet. But it was expected to rise four inches in May.

Lakes Michigan and Huron were up an inch at 577 feet. Lake St. Clair was up seven inches at 573 feet, Lake Erie up six inches at 570 feet and Lake Ontario up an inch at 244 feet.

The survey, conducted by Army engineers, predicted a four-inch May rise for Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie, a two-inch rise for Lake St. Clair and a 10-inch rise for Lake Ontario.

Lake levels were two to nine inches above the survey report for March.

Education Radio Is Promised Aid

DETROIT (AP) — Milton Lipson, head of security for the American Express Co., may not feel too secure today.

He came to Detroit to address members of a credit association on how they could reduce losses and thefts.

While he was gone from his New York office, four gunmen stole $620,000 worth of negotiable American Express travelers checks from a New York pier.

The airline couldn't land at Detroit because of fog and went to Chicago. Lipson got back in time for the talk but the airline lost his baggage, which contained his speech.

Looking at his wrinkled suit, Lipson remarked, "At first, you wish you could crawl into a hole and die. But suddenly you see the humor and then it doesn't seem so bad."

Bill Koski, former Champion High School and Northern Michigan University basketball star, has been named head coach at Republic where he will replace Tim Bullock. Koski had a great prep career for Coach Fred Boddy at Champion in 1963, leading the Indians to a 19-0 season record and winning the U. P. scoring title with 609 points. He tallied 1,889 in his prep career before beginning a three year varsity stint for Coach Stan Albeck at Northern. Bullock, a former Marquette prep star and teammate of Koski at Northern, did not announce his future plans.

Clarence Duquette of Marquette slammed a 707 national honor count on games of 251, 222 and 234. The WDMJ team of Marquette exploded for a 3057 total in a match against the Ishpeming Bank team which rolled a hefty 3002.

The first beagle field trial of the 1967 season in the Upper Peninsula will be staged Sunday by the Northland Beagle Club, Inc., of Iron Mountain. Entries are expected from clubs in Escanaba, Marquette, Ishpeming, Lake Superior, Ironwood, Traverse City, Soo and Green Bay.

Gene Kangas of Kingsford, one of the Upper Peninsula's outstanding tennis players, will be back in action at Ferris State College this spring. Kangas helped the Bulldogs netters to a second place finish in the state NITA meet last spring. The former Flivver athlete led his team in singles with a 9-3 record in 1966.

Cheryl Clark, a senior at Munising High School, has been signed to a professional basketball contract by the Texas Cowgirls organization which has its headquarters in Rockton, Ill. The Munising Miss made the grade during workouts with the team recently in Madison, and will report to the Cowgirls to join the team in September.

Pat Miller, Menominee's star basketball player who was an outstanding high jumper in track as a sophomore last season, is not competing in the sport this spring. Other members of the Maroons' state Class B basketball championship team who have dropped from the track sport are Dewey Bellisle and Bob Johnson. There are probably a lot of football coaches in the U. P. who wish that Miller would also drop football next fall. He was a triple threat tailback for Coach Ken Hofer's single wing grid team that was unbeaten against Peninsula foes last season.

Knut Anderson, veteran Marinette golfing figure, had a great winter season in Florida. The 85 year old links enthusiast recently carded an 80 on the Clearwater Country Club course, the third time during the winter that he has bettered his age. A great grandfather, Anderson first took up golfing at the age of 65.

Tiger Bats Fail In Final Inning Against Twins

MINNEAPOLIS-St. Paul (AP)—The drama was there, but the power wasn't and the Detroit Tigers lost the ball game Friday.

The Minnesota Twins were leading 5-3 and the Tigers were at bat with one out in the ninth. Gates Brown singled and that put the tying runs at the plate. Al Kaline walked and that put the tying run at first and the winning run at bat. But Jim Northrup forced Kaline at second as Brown went to third.

Then Norm Cash came to bat, representing the winning run with two out. But he grounded out and the Twins won, 5-3. Earl Wilson started for Detroit and the Twins grabbed two runs in the first inning. Cesar Tovar singled and took second on a passed ball. Rich Rollins singled to score Tovar.

Tony Oliva walked and took second on a double play grounded by Harmon Killebrew. Oliva went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Rod Carew.

The Tigers got all three runs in the second. Northrup grounded out, but Cash and Bill Freehan walked. Dick Tracowski then doubled, scoring Cash. Wilson grounded to the pitcher, Dave Boswell, who threw late to the plate and Freehan scored. Don Wert then singled Tracowski home.

The Twins went back ahead in the sixth. Bob Allison homered and Earl Battey walked. Larry Sherry replaced Wilson on the mound and Zoilo Versalles singled. Relief pitcher Jim Merritt, trying to bunt, forced Battey at third.

Then Tovar cracked a ground-er at Jerry Lumpe and the second-baseman muffed it for an error as Versalles scored.

Versalles added an insurance run in the eighth with a homer off Johnny Podres.

Merritt got credit for the victory while Wilson drew the loss. The Tigers face the Twins here again today with Joe Sparma scheduled to face Jim Katt (0-1) in his first start after Detroit this spring.

Great Debut For Rookies

By The Associated Press

Care for a bit of Can You Top This?

Bill Dillman of Baltimore and Bill Rohr of Boston, a pair of pitching prodigies, played that old game in their major league debuts Friday and if Dillman hadn't run out of innings, he might have won the match.

Rohr came within one strike of no-hitting the New York Yankees but lost his bid on a two-out, 3-2 pitch, single by Elston Howard in the bottom of the ninth inning. He finished up a 3-0 winner.

Dillman came out of the bullpen for the Orioles and hurled five hitless innings, earning credit for Baltimore's 7-1 victory over Kansas City.

Veteran Yellowjacket harriers include seniors Wayne Sharkey and Gary Simonsen, juniors Brian Depuydt, Frank Leach and Wally Sparks and sophomore Paul McNutt.

Perkins will enter the indoor event at Northern today, the Central League meet and the regional, in addition to several dual meets against area schools.

Eight Veteran Track Athletes Back At Cooks

COOKS — Coach Norman Jahn has eight returning lettermen on his Cooks High School track and field squad this season.

Veteran Clippers back in action will be Joe Carley, Mike Carley, Neil Hartman, Clayton Hill, Bruce Swagart, Art Miller, Tom Miller and Lyle Reid.

Art Miller is a mile stand-out, finishing second in that event in the Upper Peninsula Class D finals at Marquette last season. Hill and Reid earned points in the finals in the 880.

Cooks finished third in the Class D division of the regional meet and eighth in the Upper Peninsula Finals.

Pool League Meet Called Monday Night

A meeting of the Delta Pool League will be held Monday, April 17, at 8 p. m., at the Arcadia in Gladstone.

Rules and regulations will be established and schedules set. Members of the league are Breezy Point, Hurry's, Lombard's, Little Mike's, Jolly Roger, Sportsman's, Arcadia, Wally's, Mush's, Bungalow, Idle Hour and Buck Inn.

Both Dillman and Rohr are 21 and getting their first taste of life in the big leagues. And so far things couldn't be better for them.

"It would have been nice to have a no-hitter," smiled Rohr, "but it's awfully nice to be 1-0 in the big leagues." A left-hander, Rohr was 14-10 at Toronto last year.

In Friday's other American League action, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and California clubbed Cleveland 10-1. Chicago and Washington were not scheduled.

In the National League, Philadelphia stopped New York 5-1, Chicago dropped Pittsburgh 8-5, Atlanta shaded San Francisco 6-5, Houston whipped Cincinnati 8-2 and St. Louis ripped Los Angeles 8-4.

The long ball provided Rohr with all his runs against the Yankees. Rookie Reggie Smith led off against Whitey Ford with a home run and Joe Foy added a two-run shot in the eighth.

An opening day crowd of 14,375 at Yankee Stadium began pulling for Rohr as the youngster set the Yankees down and closed in on the possible no-hitter.

When Howard drove what the youngsters described as a flat curve into right field for the spoiler, the fans boomed.

"It was the first time I ever got a base hit and got booed in New York," Howard said.

Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles hammered home runs for the Twins against Detroit.

Andy Etchebarren ripped a three-run homer for the Orioles, who knocked out Kansas City starter Lew Krausse on a three-run first inning which included a triple by Paul Blair and a double by Frank Robinson.

Jay Johnstone and Jim Fregosi smacked three hits apiece and Don Mincher and Rick Reichardt hammered home runs as the Angels romped past Cleveland.

It took Los Angeles a year and a half to score a run off Larry Jaster and by then it hardly mattered.
"I'm relieved it's over with," Jaster said after the Dodgers ended his scoreless streak against them with a run at 52-3 in the seventh at St. Louis Friday. "I'll take the win."

St. Louis led 8-0 by the time Jeff Torborg's fly ball sacrificed Jim Lefebvre home with the drought-ending run. Three more Dodgers runs in the ninth inning threatened the 23-year-old left-hander's victory.

Jaster's streak went back to late in the 1965 season when he pitched a scoreless inning in relief and extended all the way through last season and a record-tying five shutouts over the Dodgers.

Jaster lasted through the eighth inning, but, unaccustomed as he is to being relieved when facing the Dodgers, made way for Dick Hughes in the ninth after a triple by Lefebvre and a single by Ron Fairly.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta edged San Francisco 6-5. Philadelphia routed New York 5-1. Houston crushed Cincinnati 8-2 and Chicago beat Pittsburgh 8-5.

The Cards did all their scoring in three innings, three runs coming in the first, two in the third and three more in the sixth. Orlando Cepeda drove in three runs, and Roger Maris had three hits.

Felipe Alou and Jo Torre cracked home runs in the first inning, helping Atlanta break out of a hitting slump and giving the Braves their first victory of the season.

Chris Short set the Mets down on seven hits, and the Phillies got maximum use out of five singles in the second inning. When they scored three runs Tom Reynolds honored for the Mets, whose manager, Wes Westrum was tossed out of the game for too vigorously protesting a foul-ball call on a ball hit by Johnny Briggs that Briggs contended hit his foot.

Home runs by Aaron Pointer and Eddie Mathews sent the Astros to their triumph. Mathews' blast was the 494th of his

Barely A Teen, 8th Grade Girl Sets Tank Mark

CLEVELAND (AP) — You could hardly blame 13-year-old Sue Pederson for the tears after winning the 400-yard individual medley in record time against some of the nation's top women swimmers.

"They're tears of joy," said the stocky Sacramento, Calif., eighth grader as she collected her first gold medal in the AAU National Women's Indoor Swimming Championships. "It's the greatest thing that ever happened."

"She's headed for the 1968 Olympics," was the matter-of-fact evaluation of her coach, Sherman Chavoor, of the Arden Hills Swim Club.

Sue's record time of 4:37 Friday night continued a sensational assault on the record book by the female swimmers.

New American standards were set in every one of the five events, making a total of eight records in nine events over the first two days of the three-day meet. Records set in the short-course indoor events are not recognized as world records.

New records going into the books include: 1:54.1 in the 200-yard free style by Pokey Watson of the Santa Clara Swim Club; 1:06.6 in the 100-yard breaststroke by Katie Ball of Jacksonville, Fla.; 2:07.8 in the 200-yard butterfly by Lee Davis of Saratoga, Calif.; and 7:53.7 in the 800-yard free style relay by the Santa Clara Swim Club.

The 16-year-old Miss Watson, another member of the Santa Clara Club, touched just three-tenths of a second ahead of Pam Kruse in the 200-yard free style. There was nothing poky about Ron Ranieri, offensive center for Michigan State, captured the 1963 Royal Oak (Mich.) Shrine High School team which included Notre Dame's star sophomore and Jim Seymour.

Three-time winner Arnold Palmer, with 68-72, was down the line at 141, deadlocked there with Art Wall Jr. and Don January.

Palmer, who qualified for this tournament by winning the Greater New Orleans Open, said, "I made seven birdies again, but I didn't hit as many greens. The wind was a factor. I'm fortunate to score as well as I did."

Popular Tom Nieporte of Locust Valley, Long Island, N.Y., was missing. He was disqualified under an automatic PCA rule when he failed to show up for his No. 1 starting time. Inadvertently, Nieporte said, his partner, Phil Rodgers, told him the night before they were slated to tee off last.

The sponsors said it was an honest mistake. Nieporte was given the minimum $1,500 purse and flew home. Rodgers shot a 75 and at 150, is the high scorer.

Big Ten Boss Is Questioned

CHICAGO (AP)—A legislative committee investigating the Illinois slush fund scandal interrogated Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed Friday and then asked him to re-appear at a third session next week.

Reed underwent sharp questioning on details of Big Ten action which resulted in the resignation of three Illinois coaches and the permanent ineligibility of five athletes connected with the $21,000 fund.

Thomas Graham, committee counsel who did most of the questioning, strove to establish Reed was mainly responsible for action taken against the athletes and coaches.

"Is it not true you are the fellow who is the prosecutor and they (Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives) the jury?" Graham asked.

"That is an unfortunate term but it is true," said Reed, who insisted that the final authority in the case rested with the faculty representatives and that the integrity of the Big Ten rule on recruiting was at stake.

"What actually happened, is that you felt the rule more important than any mitigating circumstances," said Graham.

"Yes, that would have to be the necessary conclusion," said Reed.

Reed also conceded the Big Ten was re-examining its entire athletic financial aid program to determine if a relaxation is need of limitations which are even stricter than aid permitted by the NCAA.

College Lefty Has No Choice

He has no choice. Quinlan was born without a right arm.

"I feel that I have to prove to people that I'm their equal," says Quinlan.

He holds his glove under his chin when throwing to the plate. In his last appearance, Quinlan came out of the bullpen and limited San Jose City College to four hits and no earned runs in 7 1-3 innings as Merritt came from seven runs behind for a 9-8 victory.

He was cut from the squad when he first reported in January.

"It wasn't that he didn't have the ability," explains Merritt coach Stan Korich. "I was afraid he'd get hurt. But he insisted he could do the job so I gave him a second chance."

Frank Beard Leading Golf Giants Into Third Round Of Vegas Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The giants of golf remained in seats slightly to the rear today as lesser-known Frank Beard, with a lead of three strokes, paced the procession of 26 players into the third round of the $100,000 Tournament of Champions.

Beard, from Louisville, Ky., headed toward 54 holes with previous rounds of 65-68-133, nine strokes under par for the distance, and said hopefully: "Maybe this is going to be my week."

Tied at 136 were Jack Nicklaus and Doug Sanders, neither a stranger to tournament prominence, and Dan Sikes, the non-practicing attorney from Jacksonville, Fla.

Nicklaus and Sikes reached 136 with successive rounds of 68-68, while Sanders did it in 67-69.

The 139 bracket listed Gay Brewer, Bobby Nichols, R. H. Sikes and Bruce Devlin, while Bob Goalby was alone at 140.

Far back and almost out of sight was U.S. Open champion Billy Casper, who flailed away for his highest one-hole score, an 11, on the par-5 15th hole at the par 36-35-71 Stardust Golf Club.

Three drives that hooked out of bounds told the story for Casper, whose 77 left him at 148.

There was wind and Billy said he was using a new driver. "Wind, yes, but I can't blame the wind or the club or anything but me," said Casper.

He said his chances of winning in the wind-up Sunday are about "500,000 to 1."

There is $20,000 at stake for the winner, but the pros haven't lost their sense of humor.

"I played like Barbara, but I didn't score like that," said Nicklaus, referring to his pretty wife.

Ann Arbor Not To Discontinue Lake Carferries

Charles L. Towle, president of the Detroit, Toledo & Iron- ton Railroad, today informed the Escanaba Daily Press that the Ann Arbor Railroad is studying curtailment in a much less drastic way than reported.

Towle's statement was in response to a Press editorial, which commented on reports from Menominee that "the Detroit Toledo & Iron- ton Railroad, which owns the Ann Arbor Railroad, is expected to file a petition with the Michigan Public Utilities Commission after the completion of a study it is making asking permission to discontinue its Lake Michigan Ann Arbor car- ferry service."

Towle wrote the Press: "As this statement is almost com- pletely erroneous, I request that you print a retraction, as the statement, as it now stands, is damaging to our efforts to solicit traffic via Lake Michi- gan car ferry routes.

"As a matter of fact the Ann Arbor Railroad operates four car ferry routes and only one route of the four is now being studied for possible curtailment due to insufficient traffic to support operation. You will be notified if any decision is made to submit application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for such service dis- continuance on this one route."

The Press editorial here allu- ded to accompanied a news article which reported the concern at Manistique and Menominee over possible loss of Ann Arbor Lake Michigan car ferry service. The Ann Arbor also runs from Keweenaw and Manitowish, Wis., across Lake Michigan to Frankfort.

Plan Pistol Tourney Here

Who is the best pistol shot in the Manistique area? This question will be answered Wednes- day April 19, at 7:00 p.m. when the Manistique Rifle and Pistol Club winds up its indoor season with its annual champion- ship pistol tournament. Trophies will be awarded for top gun and first place in classes A, B, C, and D. Shooters will be placed in classes according to averages they have established during this winter's team com- petition.

As the pistol season ends, the club's trap and skeet program starts. Despite cold and early darkness, some good scores have been turned in during the first two weeks or skeet shoot- ing.

Final pistol team standings:

| | Won | Lost |

| Super Chiefs | 75 | 33 |
| Pile Drivers | 70 | 38 |
| Black Powder | 58 | 49 |
| Dead Eye Dicks | 47 | 61 |

Health Teaching Class Aids Told

Mrs. Llewellyn (Melba) Bramer of Escanaba, Ray Mariucci of Kingsford and Bruno Marena of Ishpeming presented information on health education programs in their schools during the teachers' health education workshop held here Friday.

Mrs. Bramer's report covered practices in her elementary classroom, as well as teaching, and a report on projects of classroom teachers at Lenmer school in Escanaba Guidance and counselling in grade school would be beneficial, Mrs. Bramer said.

Marena discussed the Ish- peming program which in- cludes study of things which can happen to one's health and practices or aids which can prevent it or cure it. Mariucci reported on the sex education program in Kingsford schools.

It originated, he said, (from exaggerated reports) with a venereal disease case reported in a junior high student. Due to general alarm a doctor was called to lecture to students and the program followed. He said the school continued to believe the responsibility was that of parents but the parents were not capable of teaching it.

Marena said parents in Ish- peming are meeting with in- terested groups of professional persons in preparation for a program. Mrs. Clare Chamber- lin of Manistique, a counsellor in a voluntary program here, said students were much inter- ested.

Sister M. Hermans of St. Francis school noted that sex "is not bad" but abuses would be. Children comment, even in first grade, when a baby brother or sister is to be born, so parents must tell their children some things, she said.

George Hensley, coordinator for the paramedical program at Northern Michigan Univer- sity, described four new career programs the university will offer to meet medical staff shortages in the Peninsula. One will be on medical record keeping, one for medical secre- tary, one for x-ray techni- cian and another, a degree pro- gram for physical therapists in cooperation with Mayo Clinic. Students in the latter will train two years at Mayo Clinic fol- lowing 3 - years university study.

Due to problems in obtain- ing a qualified nursing direc- tor, the degree nursing pro- gram at the university will not start until Sept. 1, 1968, he said.

Dr. Gordon A. Eadie of the health departments for Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce and Macki- nac counties, praised the phi- losophy of the school in working cooperatively with the health department. Measles cases have virtually been eliminated, much as polio has, he noted, in reporting various programs.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Today Carol and I dusted her doll collection and packed it away. I must admit to a feeling of sadness, for the moment made all of the wedding preparations suddenly become real. Carol is being married in less than a month, yet it seems only yesterday John and I brought her home from the hospital.

Hansel and Gretel were last, and I smiled as I packed them. For they remind me of Carol and her young man. They seem such dreamy young innocents, but are really quite practical. Already they've solved many of the problems John and I never thought of until after our marriage. Yes, their path is well marked through the forest of matrimony.

To be sure, they may have troubled times, but they share a deep and abiding love for God that promises strength and comfort beyond their own resources. With God and His church at the center of their lives, they cannot fail.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
